

NIKOLA GEORGIEV BIO NOTES

Nikola Georgiev has received the title of Bachelor in Electrical Engineering at Ss Cyril and Methodius University in 2001.

He worked as software specialist and later project manager at Neocom, for 7 years successfully implementing enterprise IT projects at many established companies and institutions in Macedonia. In 2007 he switched jobs, working as a project manager in Seavus for customers in Germany.

He received Master of Business Administration from prestigious Said Business School, University of Oxford, in 2009.

He currently holds position of Business Development Manager for Telecommunications in Seavus , managing over 120 employees. Since early 2011 he is Executive Director for Soc.io Mall (www.mall.soc.io), a breakthrough digital retailing platform for smart devices.

Starting from 2009, He is a lecturer at New York University in Skopje, where he holds lectures on subjects of Business Project Management and Managing Organisations. He is a doctoral candidate at the Faculty of Economics at UKIM on the topic of "Financing High Risk Technology Ventures." His personal mission is the development of technology entrepreneurship as a key driver of future economic growth in Macedonia.